Creative Ways to Pass Time While Commuting

There are many different ways people pass time while commuting to and from work. This month we are going to highlight a way to pass time while catching up on your favorite book. Audio books are a great way to listen to your favorite books or explore reading longer books you would not normally have the time to read. Also, you can download these books on your IPOD or any Mp3 player and quietly listen while commuting. Many websites offer free audio books or monthly subscriptions for a small fee. Below are just a couple of websites for you to explore.
